

Ethernet Cradles

For Motorola Mobile Computers

PSCMC55-65UE

Features and Benefits

Rugged, Industrial-class, Single-slot Ethernet Cradle

- Connect Motorola mobile computers into any Ethernet network
- Tailored design allows one-handed insertion and removal of the mobile computer
- Supports mobile computers deployed in harsh, dirty or extreme environments

“Wired” Ethernet Connection

- Increase efficiency and speed with a 10 mbps or 10/100 mbps Ethernet connection
- Provides simple and reliable integration between Motorola mobile computers and the most widely deployed networking technology
- Performance advantage over wireless and modem
- Preferred solution for large data transfers
- Reduced security concerns as compared to wireless connectivity options

Built on Industry Standards

- Supports mobile computers operating serially, as USB “Host” or USB “Peripheral”
- Simple installation and seamless integration with existing network infrastructure
- Compatible with DHCP or Static IP Address assignment
- Minimize support, integration and hardware requirements

Improve Workflow and Productivity

- Users can access and synchronize their data while charging at the same time
- Access files, Local Area Networks (LANs) and the Internet
- Supports server synchronization software
